PROFILE INFO

Hello, I am Dima. I started my journey as an iOS developer in 2022, transitioning from a career as an architect. I began learning development with UIKit and then moved on to SwiftUI.

I have commercial experience in developing a project from start to finish - an independent music app that allows importing music in different ways.

I also enjoy sharing knowledge, so I have a YouTube channel for beginner developers, where I share the basics of iOS programming.

I am excited to apply my skills in designing and developing applications in a great team.
